My Mission in 2022

Mission

A mission reflects the organization's past and present by stating why the organization exists and what role it plays in society.

Vission

A vision states what the organization aspires to become in the future. Vision is the key of leadership.

Goals

Goals are the more specific aims that organizations pursue to reach their visions and missions.

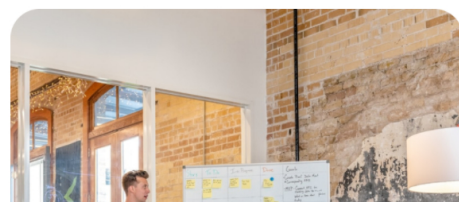

Develop Without Limits

Development Without Limits' strategic vision and attention to detail were key to our project's success—that, and our shared commitment to developing and strengthening the afterschool profession.

Know our Global Community

Communities are usually built on shared struggles of individuals learning in a particular region, and the goals of each community differ per the individual's collective needs. Over the years, these developer communities have grown across the world with different goals and missions.
